Shift The Frame - Hermanus upliftment

House of Growth (HoG) partnered up with Coastal Timber Mouldings (CTM), located in Hermanus (South-Africa), to realise a project both companies truly believe in: giving local people who are struggling, often uneducated and marginalized, a chance to move forward by offering them training and a job.

About

Our goal is to train the local people of Hermanus in the craft of carpentry. We are helping them to become self-employed and self-sustained entrepreneurs. By going through our training program we believe that they can achieve this goal within 12 - 18 months.

Contribute

We already approached private investors as well as government funding programs, but because of the size of the project and because we want to create worldwide awareness for these community projects, we want you involved!

If you believe in our project, even just half as much as we do, please do not hesitate to contribute! All small amounts make up to a big whole!
